Compliance Software Launches Internal Control Management Appliance for SOX Compliance

Provides easier, lower cost turn key automation solution for mid-market companies and VARs

Cary, NC – March 21, 2006 -- Compliance Software announced today the availability of their Internal Control Management (ICM) Appliance for easier turn key automation of Sarbanes-Oxley (SOX) compliance. The ICM Appliance is a hardware server with pre-configured software and SOX control process templates to simply plug-and-play into a company's network with no programming required.

"The Compliance ICM Appliance is ideal for companies wanting to start quickly and grow their automation solution," said Mark Shaw, President and co-founder of Compliance Software. "This solution is more cost effective and easier to implement with greater flexibility and advanced capabilities for future requirements."

Solution for Mid-Market Companies and VARs

Mid-market companies needing a faster, easier and lower cost way to get started, and VARs wanting to provide a SOX internal control compliance solution as part of their portfolio, now have a solution with the ability to expand and customize with growth and new regulations.

Large Enterprise Alternative

The ICM Appliance is ideal for large companies wanting a more cost effective and easier automation solution. The greater ease of use allows non-technical resources to implement and manage control processes and it is expandable to unlimited and customized workflow processes.

Unique Combination of Capabilities to Transform Compliance into Business Value

The Compliance ICM Appliance provides a unique combination of capabilities for transforming SOX compliance into business value for even greater cost and risk reduction:

- Optimized automation that includes real-time continuous control monitoring, preventative controls for early detection, and automated remediation process.
- Real-time Dashboard with a consolidated view of all accounts, procedures, risks/concerns and controls with real-time visibility, easy drill-down and real-time on-demand reporting.
- Easier customizable templates, fill-in forms and tables-driven interface requiring no programming.
- Integrated control life-cycle management that is future-proof for new compliance regulations and overall business process integration.
